

NO VOTE ON SILVER AS TIME PASSES

THE SENATORS DELAY TAKING FINAL ACTION.

Sharp Controversy Caused by the Action of Mr. Jones—Possibility of a Vote Saturday—House Proceedings of Public Importance—General Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 31.—A very animated debate closed the senate session late Thursday afternoon over the question of taking the vote of the pending silver-bond bill. It had been expected throughout the day that Mr. Jones (Ark.), in charge of the bill, would hold the senate in session until a vote was forced. He had given notice of this purpose and senators were prepared for it. But at 4:15, when Mr. Vilas secured the floor for a speech, he yielded for a motion to go into executive session. He felt satisfied, he said, that a vote could be taken in the near future. This led to much discussion. Mr. Chandler was sarcastic at the abandonment of the plan for a vote. Mr. Stewart made the significant statement that the pending silver amendment would be germane as an amendment to the tariff bill, and that when the latter measure came before the senate he would offer a silver amendment to test senators on their choice between tariff and silver.

Mr. Hale (rep., Me.) reported back the urgent deficiency appropriation and gave notice that he would ask to take it up today. The silver-bond bill was taken up at 2 o'clock and Mr. Call (dem., Fla.) continued his speech, begun Wednesday.

Mr. Mitchell (rep., Ore.) followed in support of the silver substitute. He pointed out that our foreign indebtedness during the last twenty-five years had greatly increased, notwithstanding the fact that during the time there was a balance of trade in our favor in merchandise of $1,763,500,000, besides silver exports of $386,311,625 and gold exports of $271,190,721. Mr. Mitchell said: "There are, in my judgment, two remedies to be applied: First, our shipping laws must be amended, our merchant marine must be encouraged and built up, and we must become our own carriers; and, secondly, we must legislate to increase the value of our export commodities so as to enable us to meet, reduce and, if possible, wipe out the debt which today makes the people of this country virtually slaves to the money lenders of Great Britain. We must reduce our expenses, and, instead of issuing new bonds, stop incurring obligations abroad and increase, if possible, the value of our commodities, including silver, with which to meet this indebtedness."

Mr. Mitchell discussed at some length the competition of China and Japan with the United States. "It is incredible," said the senator, "that the people cannot be made to realize the great, transparent fact, so absolutely apparent, that the effect of the operation of the single gold standard is to bring our laborers, our manufacturers, our artisans, and our farmers as well, into direct and ruinous competition with the laborers, the manufacturers and artisans of every silver-standard, silver-using country in the world." He said he was in favor of bimetalism, but he did not believe it could be brought about by an international agreement. He did not believe that those who were talking of an international agreement expected that such a result was possible. He was in favor of independent bimetalism, as there was no prospect of an international agreement. He did not believe that England, so long as she could control Germany and other countries, would consent to an international agreement for bimetalism.

Mr. Perkins (rep., Cal.) spoke briefly in support of the silver amendment. The people of California had made up their minds on this subject, and, knowing this universal feeling in his state, the senator said he would cast his vote for the silver amendment, thus executing the instructions given him, even though his personal views inclined to a more conservative course. He would prefer an American policy on the silver question, first coining the product of American mines.

Mr. Stewart (Nev.) interrupted with the question: "Will the senator support the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 15 to 1 independent of England?"

"Yes, I will vote for this measure," answered Mr. Perkins, "although I do not regard it as entirely expedient at this time. I will respond to the desires of the people and the state I have the honor in part to represent."

Mr. Perkins proceeded to urge the need of a tariff measure adequate to meet the country's expenditures and to overcome the deficit. The senator also approved the popular feature of the bond call.

At 4:15, when Mr. Perkins concluded, an animated discussion arose as to taking the vote on the measure. Mr. Vilas (Wis.) took the floor for a speech, but stated that he preferred to go on to-day. It was expected that Mr. Jones (Ark.), in charge of the bill, would insist on proceeding, but he said he would yield for an executive session. He added: "I do this, being satisfied from conversing with senators that there will be no difficulty in getting a vote on the bill in the very near future."

"Does the senator expect a vote tomorrow?" asked Mr. Chandler.

"To-morrow or the next day," replied Jones.

Mr. Morrill (rep., Vt.) announced that he desired to speak on the bill for about forty minutes on Saturday. This necessitated a further rearrangement of plans. Mr. Jones courteously suggested that he would certainly shape his plans to afford Mr. Morrill every facility for speaking on the day desired.

Mr. Stewart (Nev.) suggested that it was perfectly apparent no vote could be taken this week. It would be better, he said, to arrange for a vote early next week.

Mr. Jones dissented from this, saying he felt satisfied a vote could be reached on Saturday.

After considerable desultory talk Mr. Chandler withdrew his suggestions of a five-minute debate, with the distinct understanding, he said, that on Saturday an earnest effort would be made to secure a vote on the bill.

There was a momentary lull, and the presiding officer, Mr. Frye, put the question of going into executive session, and it prevailed. Soon thereafter, at 5:50, the senate took a recess until 12 to-day.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Cleveland Asked to Send in Report on Nicaragua Canal.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The attendance in the house was slim Thursday. Mr. Wadsworth (rep., N. Y.), from the committee on agriculture, reported the agricultural appropriation bill. The report of the elections committee in favor of the sitting member, D. B. Culbertson, from the 4th Texas district, and against T. H. Davis, was adopted without division.

On motion of Mr. Doolittle (rep., Wash.), a resolution was adopted requesting the president, at his earliest convenience, to transmit to congress the report of the board of engineers on the Nicaragua canal.

The bill to amend the dependent-pension act of 1890 so that in considering widows' claims seven years of unexplained absence should be deemed sufficient proof of the death of the soldier was passed. Mr. McClellan (dem., N. Y.) made the point of no quorum, but the speaker counted one.

Ambassador Bayard's Case.

Washington, Jan. 31.—No decision in the matter of censuring Ambassador Bayard was attained Thursday by the house committee on foreign affairs. The members were practically opposed along party lines, the republicans urging a resolution of censure and the democrats standing by the ambassador. It is understood that Mr. Cousins (Iowa) has prepared a resolution which calls Mr. Bayard by name and censures him, which meets the approval of a majority of the republican members of the committee. Chairman Hitt is said to favor a milder form of censure than most of his party colleagues on the committee desire.

Important Railroad Questions.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The Supreme court of the United States listened Thursday to arguments in two cases which bear upon the right of the interstate commerce commission to regulate interstate commerce. The first of these cases was directed against the Texas & Pacific Railroad company and involved the right of railroads to carry imported articles at a lower rate than is paid on domestic traffic, and the second, against the Cincinnati, Texas & Pacific and other railroad companies, involving the right to charge more for a short than a long haul. The arguments were not concluded.

To Modify Indian Treaties.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The committee on Indian affairs has authorized a favorable report on a bill for the appointment of a commission to treat with the Shoshone and Bannock Indians. It is the purpose of the bill to induce these Indians to modify their treaty rights that the privilege which they now possess of hunting on the unoccupied public lands shall not conflict with state game laws and give occasion for such disturbances as occurred at Jackson's Hole, Wyo., last year.

Urgent Deficiency Bill Reported.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The urgent deficiency bill was on Thursday reported to the senate from the committee on appropriations, being the first of the appropriation bills to be reported to the senate this session. It increases the total appropriation for deficiencies over the amount appropriated by the house bill to the extent of $1,509,664, the total being $5,930,667.

Against Convict Labor.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Among the bills introduced in the senate Thursday were the following: By Mr. Allen, of Nebraska, prohibiting the purchase or use by any federal official of any convict-made goods. By Mr. Pepper, a bill to grant pensions to soldiers who served in the Confederate army and afterward served in the army of the United States.

Republican Caucus Postponed.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The Republican senatorial caucus to consider the question of reorganization, which was to have been held Thursday, has been postponed until to-day, at 4 o'clock. The postponement was made necessary by the absence of some senators and the committee arrangements of others.

FATAL CARELESSNESS COST FIVE LIVES

THE ROLL OF DEAD IN HOLLIDAYSBURG.

Five Were Killed and Fifteen Were Injured When the Big Boiler Burst.—Boiler Thrown Three Hundred Feet, Through the Roof—Placing the Blame.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Jan. 31.—Five persons were killed and nearly a score injured, some of them fatally, by the explosion of the large thirty-nine-inch cylinder boiler at the works of the Hollidaysburg Iron and Nail company yesterday. The names of the dead are: GEORGE LANE, mason; found crushed into a lifeless mass under the boiler.

CON EVANS, helper; fractured skull. MERRILL TREES, 15-year-old boy; head ground off by flywheel.

TWO UNKNOWN TRAMPS, who had been lying near the furnace, were buried in the ruins.

The wounded: Samuel Kepphart, puddler; scalded about face and body; will die. Robert McMurray, puddler; scalded about face and body; will die.

Frank Cramer, superintendent of mill, several ribs broken and head cut. Samuel Marks, puddler; severely scalded.

John Woomey, puddler; scalded badly and hip broken; may die.

Finley Ferguson, puddler; severely scalded.

George Moore, wheeler; internal injuries.

David McCloskey, boss of nail department; badly injured about body.

Marshall Weir, laborer; spine badly injured; may die.

John Hefferin, tramp; cut in head; may die.

George Rock, roller; cut about head.

Robert Marks, straightener; wrist and ankle broken, internal injuries; may die.

Daniel Ounkst, catcher; internal injuries.

William Harsock, heater; bodily injuries.

Daniel Ayres, puddler; badly injured about body.

Only two employees escaped uninjured. The boiler was blown through the roof of the works, 300 feet in mid-air, and came sailing down like a spent rocket, crushing through the roof in another department of the works. The entire roof was precipitated to the floor below by the force of the explosion and the works were practically wrecked. The explosion was sufficient to rock the earth with the force of an earthquake and broke hundreds of windows a quarter of a mile from the mill. All the local physicians were called to the works to act as hospital corps for the wounded.

There was the greatest excitement around the wrecked building, and the families of the dead and wounded were frantic with grief. As soon as the bodies of the dead and injured could be got together Coroner Foust impaneled a jury, which, after viewing the wreck, adjourned until evening.

No explanation is offered as to the cause of the explosion. Some of the employees say they were short of steam before the accident occurred.

APPORTIONMENT INVALID.

Indiana Supreme Court Makes a Most Important Decision.

Indianapolis, Jan. 31.—The supreme court yesterday declared invalid the legislative apportionment of 1895 passed by the republicans. The case came up from Sullivan county, and involved the apportionment act also of 1893, passed by the democrats. This also goes down as unconstitutional. By a former decision the apportionments 1893, passed by the democrats. This latter decision makes it necessary to go back to the act of 1895, which is the last apportionment act passed that has not been successfully attacked. The decision suggests that a special session of the legislature might be called to remedy the situation. The hold-over senators elected under the law of 1895 are not disturbed by the decision. There are three opinions, one of which is a quasi dissent.

The Kellar Trial.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 31.—The defense fought hard Thursday to break down the steady continuation of circumstantial evidence going to show that Clara Shanks did not drown herself, but was murdered, and that the circumstances pointed to the Kellars as the murderers. Several witnesses were examined, but the defense failed to change their testimony on cross-examination.

Criticizes Salisbury's Policy.

London, Jan. 31.—John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland in the late Rosebery and Gladstone liberal cabinets, speaking at Arbroath in Scotland, said that Lord Salisbury blundered in questioning the Monroe doctrine, to which America is strenuously attached. He added that if ever there was a case for arbitration it was the Venezuela boundary dispute.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 31.—The report from the city of Mexico that the minister of the interior had ordered the governor of Chihuahua to send 500 "rurales" to Juarez to prevent Dan Stuart's pugilistic carnival from holding fights in Juarez, is denied.

THE SHOT WAS FIRED IN SELF DEFENSE

PROMINENT INDIANA STOCK BUYER KILLED.

Fatal Termination of a Long-Standing Feud—Murderer Surrenders to the Authorities—Cunning Plan of a Texas Murderer Revealed to the Police.

Plymouth, Ind., Jan. 31.—John Swoverland, a well-known stock buyer, was shot and killed instantly by Samuel S. Stewart at a sale of machinery on the farm of Charles Elsener at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The shooting was the result of a long-standing feud between the two men. Swoverland, it is claimed, had sworn to kill Stewart. Stewart, who is a lad of about twenty-one, attended the sale and became involved in a quarrel with a young son of Swoverland, in which young Swoverland seems to have been worsted. He started to return home for his father, whom he met on the way, a short distance from the scene of the sale.

The elder Swoverland immediately hastened to the scene and, it is claimed, calling to Stewart, told him he had come to kill him. Drawing a revolver he shot at Stewart, but missed him. Stewart returned the fire, the ball went wide of its mark. Stewart's second shot struck Swoverland full in the forehead, penetrating the brain. As Swoverland fell Stewart fired again, but only inflicted a flesh wound.

After the shooting Stewart started for home, intending to get a horse and come to town to give himself up. On the way he met an elder son of Swoverland, who fell upon him with a knife and nearly killed him. In the fight Stewart's right arm was cut nearly to pieces. He then went to Bourbon and gave himself up and was brought here and placed in jail.

The shooting created intense excitement, owing to the prominence of Swoverland, but is rapidly on the decrease, from the fact that the young man, as the people believe, acted in self-defense. His promptness in surrendering himself to the authorities has greatly helped his case, and at the preliminary hearing, which will be held to-day, he may be discharged. Stewart, while expressing his sorrow at "being compelled" to slay the man, says that Swoverland would surely have killed him.

Cunning Plan of a Murderer.

Houston, Tex., Jan. 31.—Mrs. Bettie Crocker was found brutally murdered in Madison county in October, having been hacked to pieces with an ax. A reward of $600 was offered. Wednesday Sheriff Lindley arrested Isaac Randle, her 13-year-old nephew, who confessed to the crime, implicating his 10-year-old brother. He says he was offered $200 by the man who killed his aunt to say he did it, his age guaranteeing immunity.

Circleville, Ohio, Jan. 31.—The jury in the case of Col. A. B. Coit has returned no verdict yet. Late yesterday afternoon the jurors sent to Judge Waters for the orders under which Col. Coit was acting. The court referred them to his charge upon this matter. It is believed that, though the jury has had the case twenty-four hours, all that time has been spent in discussion, and that no vote has been taken.

Dr. von Boetticher spoke as usual in the reichstag yesterday. It is also reported that Vice Admiral Hollman, secretary for the navy, has resigned. New York, Jan. 31.—The bout Thursday between George Dixon, featherweight champion of the world, and Pedlar Palmer, the English bantam champion, was declared a draw at the end of the sixth round. The majority of those present did not agree with the referee, and said that Palmer should have had the decision on points. Dixon was unable to get to the new-come, but it is more than probable that in a fight to a finish the colored champion would win.

In addition, there were handsome floral tributes from the staff of the American embassy and that of the United States consulate here. Rev. Dr. Dickie made the funeral address. It was a touching tribute to the Americanism and sterling virtues of the deceased.

The American colony held a meeting to express sympathy with Mr. Runyon's family, and passed resolutions of condolence with them and of respect for the deceased.

News From South Clinton.

South Clinton, Jan. 31.—Miss Edna Gates, of Turtle, has been visiting her cousin, Cyrus Gates. Mr. Westby has been spending some days in Clinton. A large number of our people attended Mr. Everett's funeral on Sunday. Dexter Northrup has been spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Dresser's brother, E. E. Patch, returned from Galveston, Texas, last week, and will probably remain for a time. The neighborhood prayer meeting met with W. E. Dresser and family last Friday evening.

Week's News From Rock River.

Rock River, Jan. 31.—Lona Balch is on the sick list. G. E. Brightman has returned from his trip to Kansas City, Missouri. Nellie Maxon, of Milton, attended church here last Sabbath. A load of the young people attended the lecture at Milton College last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Andy Davis invited several of her friends to a quilting party last Tuesday.

HIGH TIMES ON THE ICE.

The River Has Been Thronged With Skaters This Week.

Twelve hours of thaw have ended the biggest skating carnival Janesville has seen in years. The ice, the weather and the moon worked together to draw crowds toward the river—the young to skate, and the old to look on.

"They can't skate the way we used to twenty years ago," one of the bystanders remarked. "Nobody in Janesville can cut pigeon wings the way Frank L. Smith and George Van Etta used to; while Alderman Orrie Sutherland and Hal Dewey have seen the day when they could beat anybody in the state in a five mile race. Mrs. E. F. Carpenter and Mrs. Orion Sutherland were the best skaters among the ladies."

Among the skaters of today there are more than a few who are clever. Among those who have been on the ice this week are:

CHILDREN IN SCHOOL COST 7 CENTS A DAY

JANESVILLE FIGURES COMPARATIVELY LOW.

Superintendent Mayne Shows That the Cost to Janesville People Is Much Below That in Other Towns the Country Over—Madison as a Standard.

It costs but 7.15 cents a day to give a Janesville child schooling. Count 180 school days to the year. That makes the education of each Janesville child cost $12.80 a year. Superintendent Mayne furnishes the figures.

To his mind they tell no story of extravagance. He is inclined rather to talk about parsimony. The majority of cities that provide for so many pupils as Janesville does spend a good deal more money.

The average cost, the country over, is 15.17 cents a day per child. Janesville shows 16.4 per cent. of the entire population of the city enrolled in the schools. The average for the United States is but 14.6.

Shows Many Figures.
Superintendent Mayne's figures which will be incorporated in the new high school annual, soon to be issued by The Gazette, gives the comparative expense of cities having a population of 4,000 or over in north central division of states, consisting of Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Dakotas, Nebraska, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas. Comparisons are also made with the United States as a whole.

With Wisconsin alone and with the city of Madison. Madison is chosen not because the expense of maintaining her schools is considerable in excess of our own, but because the enrollment in her schools is almost the same as our own. This is the Table.

The table in which these comparisons are presented is as follows:

	Ratio of enrollment to population of city	Average cost of tuition and teaching per capita of pop.	Average cost of tuition and teaching per pupil per day for 180 days	Total expenditures per pupil per year
N. Central States	14.7	$1.75	$0.93	$3.68
United States	14.6	$1.72	$0.92	$3.64
Wisconsin	14.6	$1.72	$0.92	$3.64
Madison	14.6	$1.72	$0.92	$3.64
Janesville	16.4	$1.62	$0.90	$3.22

Exceeded This City By $12,438.

With reference to Madison the totals express the great amount of enforced parsimony practiced by Janesville's board of education. Madison expended $41,227.74 to maintain her schools for one year; $12,438 more than was expended by Janesville for the same purpose. Madison's total enrollment is but ninety-five more than Janesville's. The figures given in the table above are truly startling.

The Cost Kept Down.

It will be noticed that Janesville is providing schooling for a larger percentage of her population than the average and at the same time is providing at a very much less cost. The cost of supervision and teaching for each pupil enrolled, for one day, has reached the low point of five cents. With the funds at its disposal the board of education deserves great credit for having maintained the schools in so high a state of efficiency as they are in at present.

ICE CUTTERS WORK ALL NIGHT.

They Are in a Hurry to Get in The Year's Harvest.

There has not been enough warm weather to stop ice-cutting, but the ice men are worried. The Ferris Ice Company is working fifty men day and night.

"We intend to put in 5,000 tons of ice this winter," remarked George Ferris to a Gazette man. "We are working our men night and day so as to get the ice all stored before the cold weather sets in, for a cold snap makes the channels freeze up and gives us a great deal of trouble."

NEARLY WENT INTO A WELL

W. C. Duthie Has a Narrow Escape From Serious Injury at Smithton.

Smithton, Jan. 31.—W. C. Duthie met with a severe accident last Monday, which might have cost him his life. He and his hired man had been repairing the well and he was in the act of hauling the man up by means of a rope and pulley fastened to a scantling in the windmill tower, when the heavy stick fell, striking Mr. Duthie across the head and shoulders. Fortunately the man was near enough to the top of the well that he caught on the platform or he would have taken a tumble of 50 feet to the bottom. At last accounts Will was improving and will probably be out again in a few days. George Chamberlain and daughter Matie, of Chemung, Ill., spent Tuesday and Wednesday with his father, James Chamberlain. R. G. Luwan is in Chicago this week on business. The Literary Society holds a weekly meeting on Friday afternoons at the school house. Some rousing times are reported. Charles Playter is looking happy over the arrival of a young son.

One minute Cough Cure is rightly named. It affords instant relief from suffering when afflicted with a severe cough or cold. It acts on the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs and never fails to give immediate relief. C. D. Stevens.

IT INCREASES FLESH.

The New Dyspepsia Cure Does It.

A Few Remarkable Instances.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the new discovery which has made so many remarkable cures of dyspepsia and indigestion, has recently shown that it also has the effect of increasing the flesh and weight of thin, run-down people and invalids. This is done in a perfectly natural manner. The tablets by restoring perfect digestion cannot fail to increase the weight and general vigor because the first effect of perfect digestion, following the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, is a vigorous appetite, then complete digestion and assimilation of food eaten, and the result is every muscle, nerve, ligament in the body is nourished and the increase in flesh is noticeable in some cases within a week after using the remedy.

Dr. Harlandson mentions many cases in his own practice where Stuart's Tablets were used to increase of flesh was very noticeable in each case. The doctor says: "Whenever I have a patient whose stomach is disordered, tongue coated, poor appetite and run-down condition my advice to such is to go to the nearest drug store and get a 50-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the result will be the stomach will be set right, perfect digestion restored, all nervousness disappear and in many cases I have seen the weight increased 15 or 20 pounds. I recommend this remedy in preference to any other because it is not a secret patent medicine but is perfectly pure and wholesome, composed of vegetable essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth, and can be given to delicate babies with benefit."

Another case is that of Miss Helen Sholes, of Nashville, who writes as follows: "Up to the fall of 1893 I had suffered from dyspepsia for nearly eight years. I was not sick in bed, but was so miserable, run down, discouraged and nervous that I might better have been in a hospital for any good I was to myself or others. For years I had been thin, pale and dyspeptic. Our good old family doctor did all he could for me, and finally advised me to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, telling me there was no risk in taking it because it was not a secret patent medicine, but every physician knew what the tablets contained. Acting on his advice I went to the drug store, bought half a dozen packages and before they were half gone I knew the right medicine had been found at last. I enjoy an appetite, strength and freedom from weakness that I had never known previously. I gained 18 pounds in weight and while I am not fat (I don't want to be) yet my friends say I am plump enough and any more flesh would be undesirable."

The one great thing about Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is that it can be taken with perfect safety, the formula being known to every physician. No wonderful secret patent medicine can compare with it. Think twice before you put something into your stomach you know nothing about, and if you are run down or poor appetite ask your druggist for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and take no substitute. If your druggist has not got them insist on his getting them for you, as they are sold by all wholesale druggists.

Two Janesville sports arrived here this morning after a successful cock fighting tour through the state. They got off the train with two bags thrown over their shoulders, each bag containing a fighting cock. The birds were pitted in Appleton, Helenville and Fort Atkinson. The police in Fort Atkinson were watching so the fight took place a mile from town in an old tobacco shed there being fifty spectators.

Throwing Mud.

Unless words without meaning are used a person's vocabulary must be bounded by his knowledge. Many years ago I was teaching a class of poor children in the school connected with the Church of St. Paul's, Covent Garden. One day I exhibited a picture of a hay field with men carting hay. I asked the children what the men were throwing up into the cart. They answered without a moment's hesitation, "Mud!" It then occurred to me for the first time that these children had never seen a hayfield or the carting of hay, but the scavenger's cart, carting mud, they were quite familiar with, and hence they spoke within their knowledge.—Notes and Queries.

STIFFEN HIS BACK.

There is a growing feeling that the Davis resolutions ought to be passed by the senate because of diplomatic weakness of President Cleveland himself. The English critics, on sober second thought, are finding in that clause of the president's message—which declares that "any adjustment of boundary which Venezuela may deem for her advantage and may enter into of her own free will, cannot, of course, be objected to by us," a precedent "for the abandonment of the entire Monroe doctrine." On this ground the Davis resolution demands the solid support of the entire American congress.

WANTS NO UNNECESSARY LAWS.

The first republican governor she has had in thirty years is giving New Jersey plenty to think about. In his inaugural he declared that he would veto every law that had not some positive and convincing reason to justify its passage. He is a young man with a good record and a great opportunity, New Jersey having rejoiced for many years in a conspicuously corrupt government. As a rising young republican, he is worth watching.

Those Armenian resolutions adopted by congress will probably be regarded by the governments of Great Britain, Austria, France, Italy, Russia and Turkey, as one of the most extraordinary cases of international meddling on record. Yet, there is little doubt that every word in these resolutions is in accord with the public sentiment of this country.

Ex-Senator Platt's definition of his platform—"I believe in republican protection, in republican ability to manage the nation's finances, in republican Americanism, in republican integrity and in republican uprightness of purpose," is good enough for any republican.

This country produces $50,000,000 worth of gold a year. There is no excuse for a shortage if the revenues be kept up anywhere near the proper point, as it will be when the party of resumption and of debt reduction gets control again.

Prince Battenburg, who had never received anything but abuse from the English press, would have died happy if he could have known all the good things that same press would say of him.

Bismarck didn't respond very cordially to the bouquets the emperor has been throwing at him, when he came out flat-footed against the emperor's foreign policy.

Ambassador Bayard ought to consider himself very fortunate in escaping with only a congressional censure, when he so richly deserved being kicked out of office.

Boss Croker appears to have changed his mind about keeping out of politics. He knows "where he got it," and he wants more of it.

Republicans in congress, being now provided with a Cannon in both house and senate, are ready for the battle to open.

If less of the Cuban news was prepared in this country we might know more about the real situation.

It will be the boom that booms in June that will wear the laurel wreath of success.

NOW COMES MAPLE SIRUP.

A Million Dollars Invested in the Industry—Large Revenue for Vermont.

This is the time of year when maple sirup takes its proper place as king of the condiments at the breakfast table, says the New York World. It comes in with buckwheat cakes and fried tominy. There is just a round million of dollars invested in this country in the machinery which produces and purifies the sirup. The industry is confined almost entirely to the few states north of Massachusetts. That is because the maple tree refuses to flourish in any but a cold climate. It won't grow in the northwestern states, for the reason that it has to have plenty of moisture and that is to be had only near the ocean. Fully 90 per cent of the maple sirup and maple sugar produced in this country comes from Vermont. The annual yield of sirup and sugar of that state is valued at something like $500,000. Seventy-five per cent of the product is consumed in this country, and the rest is exported to Europe. But it is not in common use beyond the sea for the reason that it is very expensive because of the freight and duty. In England it is to be found in many of the homes of the nobility, where it is regarded in high favor, not only because it is delicate and sweet, but because it is a unique and costly product. There is a good deal of mystery about the origin of the production of maple sugar and sirup. By whom it was first discovered will probably never be known. It has been popular among the people of the world for several centuries. Milton must have known it, though he evidently regarded it as an humble article, for in his Comus he says:

"For who would rob a hermit of his weeds, His few books, his beads, or his maple dish?"

The maple tree is active in summer and passive in winter. The tree is extremely porous, there being, according to the highest authority, about 100,000,000 cells in every cubic inch of the wood. In summer the tree absorbs moisture into all these cells, which is condensed into water. This water mingling with the natural saccharine properties of the tree, becomes maple sirup in a crude form. The tree is also extremely sensitive to weather conditions. When in February and March the maple begins to "sweat," as the New England farmer terms it, the tree wishes to unburden itself and it does so whether the farmer is on hand to get the benefit of the process or not. But the farmer is generally on hand. Before machinery was invented for the purpose the farmer used to furrow the trunk of the tree by slashing the bark lengthwise all around the tree near its base. A trough attached to the lowest of these furrows carried the sirup from the tree to the dripping bucket and that constituted the process of getting the product. The farmer nowadays goes up to a tree that is "sweating," casts his eye at the softest spot in the trunk and drives into it to a depth of several inches a metal tap and this relieves the tree in splendid shape. The tree appears just as anxious to get rid of the sap as the farmer is to gather it.

ALBERT RUSSELL DIED AT A DANCE

FELL LIFELESS BESIDE HIS CARRIAGE.

Brother of the Former City Marshal, and a Resident of Janesville for Years, He Had Spent the Latter Part of His Life in Ireland.

Albert Russell, an old-time resident of Janesville, and a brother of the former city marshal, Alex Russell, died in Ireland recently under peculiarly sad circumstances.

The account of his death says: Mr. Russell was one of a picnic party at Point House on the Lakes of Killarney and on the domain of Lord Kenmare. The place is about three miles from Faghagh Court, where Mr. Russell made his home with his cousin, Bernard MacMoragh. The entertainment was given by the gentry of the surrounding country, and Mr. Russell had danced very often and was engaged for the following dance when he complained to his partner of not feeling well. She advised him not to dance as he did not look well. Mr. Russell then left the building, lit a cigarette and went to his carriage. As his valet assisted him on with his overcoat he leaned against the carriage and died.

Was a Typical Country Gentleman.

Up to the time of his death, the account says, he was in robust health, was a fine specimen of the country gentleman and engaged in all sports. He was an expert lawn tennis player, a fine shot and lived a most exemplary life, being what is something of a rarity in the old country, a total abstainer.

Albert Russell was the second of the family to come to this city. The three brothers were nephews of the late "Judge" T. M. Lynch of the Fifth ward and members of an aristocratic Irish family.

For nearly four years Albert Russell worked in the Gazette office. He had one hand crippled in a job press. He moved to Leavenworth, Kas., from here and from Leavenworth went to Ireland.

GIRLS IN A GYMNASIUM CLASS.

Eighteen young ladies got their first instructions in the high school under Director Keesler's Orders.

Eighteen young ladies got their first instructions in the high school gymnasium yesterday afternoon, under instruction of Director Keesler at the Y. M. C. A. The eighteen made a brave effort at basket ball and enjoyed the company of a hundred spectators but all of the same sex with the exception of Mr. Keesler. The costume has not been decided upon but it is likely that a short skirt with a sweater will be chosen in spite of the demand made by several in the class for bloomers.

PARALYZED GIRL CARED FOR.

She Will Be Given Shelter at the County House.

A pitiful case was that of a young woman who went to the poor farm today because paralysis of her arms and legs made her unable to work. She had been working on the Thompson farm in La Prairie.

"I am twenty five years old" she said, "and used to be as strong as anybody."

She cried when she thought of going to the poor farm for shelter.

WANTED HIS GIFTS OR ELSE HIS BRIDE

ALFRED LANGDON RELATES HIS TROUBLES.

Blanche Annis Made Him Think She Would Marry Him, and on the Strength of This He Gave Her Jewelry as Well as Wearing Apparel.

There came into District Attorney Jackson's presence today Alfred Langdon an injured man.

Blanche, bobbed her blonde curls mischievously, it is declared and promised to become Alfred's wedded wife. On the strength of this promise she received presents.

There was a ring, a chain, a plain dress and a silk dress. At last Blanche wanted a waist of Scotch plaid silk that cost $1 a yard. That broke off the match.

District Attorney Jackson and Clerk W. F. Williams were closeted with Mr. Langdon for an hour but they couldn't hold forth positive assurance that his gifts would be recovered.

SKIN CALVES ALIVE IN THE BACK YARD

THIRD WARD MAN A SUBJECT OF COMPLAINT.

Rev. Richard Miller Tells Alderman Burnham That Gross Cruelties Are Being Practiced in the City—Animals Said To Be Flayed While Full of Life.

Rev. Richard Miller has reported to Alderman Burnham a case of cruelty in the outskirts of the Third ward. He claims that calves and pigs are being skinned alive.

Rev. Mr. Miller says that a Third ward man has been buying calves about the city, butchering them and retelling the meat, but says the practice is to dress the calves while alive.

"He strikes a calf in the head" said Mr. Miller, "and has the hide half off before the animal loses consciousness. The struggles are often pitiful to behold and show that fearful agony is being suffered."

Who Shall Lead the Four Hundred?
New York's Four Hundred are in doubt as to whom shall be awarded the mantle worn by Ward McAllister. There are two favorites for the honor, and they seem to be running neck and neck. One of them is Edmund L. Baylies, an ath-

The second aspirant is Elisha Dyer, Jr., another young society man with money for confagurations. Mr. Baylies' strongest bid for the McAllister mantle occurred recently, when, as chairman of the arrangement committee of three, he managed that great annual social function, the Patriarchs' ball, with great success.

FOOD STRENGTH.
It Comes From the Right Food Properly Digested.

Food strength is natural strength. It is new strength; created strength. That is, it is not stimulation.
The real strength of your body is your constitutional strength, your reserve strength. It is the result of eating proper food and digesting it.
Eating food does no good at all; rather harm - unless it is digested. So that everything narrows itself down to one proposition: How is your digestion?
One person in three of us have indigestion in some form or another. It is not really a disease, but a condition; a condition which may become serious.
We all wish to be strong and we might all become so if we digested our food. The loss of your strength is a serious matter. It may be the beginning of a dangerous disease. It may mean that you cannot go on with your work.
Shaker Digestive Cordial is an aid to digestion. It is a strength maker. It makes your food nourish you. It makes you strong. It relieves at once all the symptoms of acute dyspepsia, tones up the system and creates fresh energy and strength. Taken regularly it will permanently cure indigestion, and make the weak, thin, irritable, nervous dyspeptic, strong, fat, hearty and well again.
A 10 cent bottle will show you what it will do. Sold by druggists at 10, 25, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

They got the lunch.—N. Y. Recorder.

STABLE MADE A PRISON.

North Carolina Attorney Sent to Jail for a Mule.

From the Washington Star: "I was imprisoned in a stable once," said a well-known attorney to a Star writer. "I had been retained to recover a mule in a mountain county of North Carolina. The mule had been taken from my client and I obtained a writ of replevin, under which the sheriff turned the animal over to me. He was placed in a log stable until the case could be tried the next morning. Court convened about sunrise, under a big oak tree, and the mule was sent for, but the brute had escaped and could not be found.

"'Cou't will come to order," said the justice, 'an' es the critter is gone, the red-headed lawyer'll take his place, bein' as he was the las' one then hed 'im in charge.'

"The trial progressed and judgment was rendered in favor of my client for the mule, but in the absence of the property the justice said:

"'The mule was wuth a hundred dollars, an' as the lawyer let 'im git away, I'll render judgment agin 'im for a hundred dollars an' costs, an' the sheriff 'll imprison 'im till the costs are paid.'

"Of course the proceedings were illegal, but as I did not have enough money in my pockets to pay the costs I was locked up in the log stable until I could send thirty miles over the mountains and get the cash. All day long I staid in the impromptu jail, and as it grew dark my thoughts were not of a pleasant nature. Suddenly a nose stuck through the chinks. It was the lost mule, and I have never been as glad to see any living creature as I was to greet that long-eared representative of the equine race. I succeeded in making the owner of the stable hear me, and in a few minutes the mule had taken my place in the stable."

NO FOOD FOR TWELVE DAYS.

Remarkable Endurance of Dogs Imprisoned by an Indiana Cave-In.

From the Peru, Ind., Journal: A remarkable story about two dogs that were caught by a cave-in and were unable to escape until rescuers arrived, twelve days later, comes from John R. Thorne, a farmer residing two miles east of Santa Fe. One of the dogs belonged to him and the other to a neighbor. Both dogs were good rabbit hunters and would hunt from morning until night without even stopping to eat. Two weeks ago yesterday the two dogs suddenly disappeared. One, two, three days passed and the dogs were still marked absent. Their excuse was wanted. The owners suspected a certain man in Santa Fe of having killed the dogs and they were quite angry about it. Last Saturday noon Mr. Thorne heard a scratching on a door at his home. He open it, and the two skinny dogs dragged themselves into the house and fell to the floor, not dead but very near it. The sight of the dogs was enough to bring gladness and pity to the family. The creatures were in such a deplorable condition that it was thought that they would die. But they have not, and they are now getting fatted up for another hunt.

After dinner Saturday Mr. Thorne met Silas Hahn in Santa Fe and the latter asked Thorne if his dog had returned home. He said that early in the morning his (Hahn's) dog followed up a scent and landed at the foot of a hill where he began digging in the side of it. Hahn joined in, and in a short time a cave-in was struck, from out of which jumped the two dogs. They had started in a hole after a rabbit, were caught by the cave-in and had remained there with nothing to eat or drink for twelve days. And still the dogs live on.
